New Book Analyzes the Dimensions of Governance that Prevent Armed Conflict and Foster Sustainable Peace

David Cortright, Conor Seyle, and Kristen Wall have published Governance for Peace: How Inclusive, Participatory and Accountable Institutions Promote Peace and Prosperity. More »

Announcing the 10th Annual Summer Institute for Faculty

The 10th Annual Summer Institute for Faculty — "Teaching Peace in the 21st Century" — will be held June 11-15, 2018, at the University of Notre Dame. More »

Apply now to the Master’s in Global Affairs Peace - Studies Concentration

2017 Call for Applications: Ph.D. in Peace Studies
Applications are now being accepted for the Master’s in Global Affairs – Peace Studies Concentration for Fall 2018. More »

Notre Dame’s Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies invites applications to its Ph.D. Program in Peace Studies. More »

David A. Hooker on Narrative and Reconciliation: Changing Stories, Changing Lives

This past summer, professor David Hooker traveled widely to test and refine his ideas of how narrative structures determine how we think, learn, and interact with others. More »

Peter Wallensteen on the 2017 Nobel Peace Prize

Professor Peter Wallensteen comments on the selection of the International Campaign to Abolish Nuclear Weapons (ICAN) for the 2017 Nobel Peace Prize. More »

Ph.D. Students Named Pepe Fellows in Peace Studies

Doctoral students Heather M. DuBois, Chris Haw, and Michael Yankoski have been named Steven D. Pepe Ph.D. Fellows in Peace Studies for the 2017-2018 academic year. More »

Ph.D. Students Named 2017-18 Mullen Family Fellows

Doctoral students Drew Marcantonio and Ruth Carmi have been named Mullen Family Fellows for the 2017-2018 academic year. More »
Ph.D. Student Named Darby Fellow

Doctoral student Ana Sanchez-Ramirez has been named as the 2017–2018 Darby Fellow. More »

Hire a Ph.D. in Peace Studies

The Kroc Institute is pleased to announce its doctoral candidates seeking academic appointments. More »

Upcoming Events

Slaves Next Door? Claiming Asylum and Accessing Justice in the Global North

Thursday, November 9
12 p.m., C103 Hesburgh Center

Kroc Institute Visiting Research Fellow Benjamin Lawrance will compare two alternative strategies of contemporary urban slave resistance in West Africa. More »

The History and Politics of Human Shielding

Tuesday, November 14
4:00 p.m., C103 Hesburgh Center

Neve Gordon discusses the dramatic increase of urban warfare, including insurgency and counterinsurgency, that inevitably entails civilians frequently occupying the front lines of the fighting and being framed as weapons of war. More »

Paving the Way to Peace? Ceasefire Agreements in Mindanao’s Peace Processes

Tuesday, November 28
4:00 p.m., C103 Hesburgh Center

Featuring Malin Åkebo, researcher at the Department of Political Science, Umeå University and Kroc Institute Visiting Scholar. More »
Faculty in the News

David Cortright was quoted in the The Daily Star article "EU launches online map for sanctions maze."

George Lopez was interviewed by SiriusXM (Patriot Channel 125) “George Lopez On How China's Role In The North Korean Nuclear Process”

Mary Ellen O'Connell was interviewed by The Crown (King’s College) in the article "Constitution Day Lecture Calls for a Return to Natural Law."

The Kroc Institute conducts research on strategies for sustainable peace and supports undergraduate, master's, and Ph.D. students in peace studies.

100 Hesburgh Center for International Studies
Notre Dame, IN 46615 US

This email was sent to kflahert@nd.edu.
To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.